[TOPIC 1]

Often, people do not think about how much they buy. For instance, people buy food at the supermarket, but may not eat everything they have bought. Companies also encourage customers to buy and buy. Fashion is good example of this. Most people buy more clothes than they need. On the other hand, responsible consumption means thinking about what we actually need and only buying that amount. It is also about decreasing the amount of garbage we create because garbage puts stress on the environment. Finally, companies need to learn how to make money without creating waste. The future of our planet will depend on it. (105 words)

[TOPIC 2]

I like The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, by C.S. Lewis. It is a story about four children who walk into a wardrobe and magically find themselves in the land of Narnia. There, animals can talk, but the country is ruled by an evil witch. At the climax of the story, Aslan offers his own life to save everyone. As a result, Narnia becomes a paradise. But for me, the best part of the book is the fact that a country like Narnia can exist, and that if we only knew the way, we might also be able to get there. (102 words)
