TOPIC 1

When countries are at war, people starve. Not only can't farmers grow food, but they can't transport it either. Furthermore, international aid can't get in. The civil war in Sudan is one example. Millions of people are suffering there. Another problem affecting food production is extreme weather. My country might also face a natural disaster and experience food shortages as a result. For this reason, all countries need to work together to solve the global problems of conflict and climate change. In fact, peace and cooperation are the two most important keys to ending hunger in the world. [98 words]

TOPIC 2

The most memorable gift I ever received was the present my parents gave me on my eighth birthday. That morning, they told me we were going to go to look for furniture for my room. It wasn't so exciting, but I didn't really mind. When the car finally stopped however, we had arrived at a house, not a store. Even better, inside the house was a mother dog and her puppies. Wow, wow, wow! What a great surprise! I always wanted a dog and talked about dogs and dreamed about dogs. That day, as I brought my little dog home, my dream came true. [104 words]
